Weltweit werden Verkehrsflugzeuge auf den Rollfeldern von Holzkeilen, den „Chocks“ auch „Blocks“ genannt, gesichert. Die Flugzeit wird anhand dieses Sicherungszustandes festgelegt, so beginnt für das Flugzeug und die Crew die Reisezeit „Off Chocks“ wenn die Keile entfernt werden und endet „On Chocks“.

All over the world on the runways of airports planes wait on wooden blocks, also known as “chocks”. These chocks are used to secure the plane before takeoff. The journey starts when the airplane is “off Chocks” and ends when it’s “on Chocks”.
